Notes	This is beautiful outdoor flower! The trim is very nice, exposing everything you want to see about the flower as a consumer with just a touch of sugar leaf left on to protect the trichombs in the jar. The maturity of the flower is on point with a very nice ratio of amber trichombs, letting me know this plant reached full maturity. The cure on this flower is an A in my opinion. This flower appears very well cured and cared for during the process.

Dry Hit	6
Body	Moderate
Intensity	6
Complexity	6.7
Longevity	6.5
Smoothness	7.7
Tastes Like	Citrus and sweet, woody, rich earth
Uniqueness	Common

Notes

The dry hit is really pleasant, sweet with a really prominent orange citrus flavor. The flavor changed a lot throughout the joint. Starting off with a nice orange / citrus flavor up front with woody notes on the back end. The orange flavor remains on the exhale after the woody flavor settles down a little. About halfway through the joint things became a little spicy and the citrus falls into the background. Then the spicy flavor takes over until the end, like strong black pepper corn, it made my tongue tingle just a little. Just moments after setting the joint down all the orange flavor gently came back and hung on the exhale for a good 10 minutes or better. Very nice!

Experience

7.0

Physical Effect Type	Relaxed
Mental Effect Type	Relaxed
Onset	Moderate
Intensity	MODERATE
Duration	SUSTAINED
After Effect	BALANCED
Uniqueness	Common

Notes

Very nice flower! I really enjoyed the experience. The onset is moderate but builds pretty quickly, leaving my mental and physical effects very relaxed. The intensity of the effects are moderate to strong. I can feel it strongly in my head and body, immediately lowering my eyes and brow, while easing body tension. It's very well suited for an evening smoke. I really enjoyed this flower and the experience. I'll definitely smoke it again.
